INTRODUCTION TO PROBLEM:

In this era, we need more and more development so that we are making such a thing that can help people just by voice. No need to even use your hands.

What will our project do?

Our project will respond on the voice. For example if we want to listen music and also don't want to use even our hands we can just say it loud and music started. This is just an example we have many more functions in our project.

Software Requirements:

Visual Studio Code

Language:

We will use python.
